Jacina Abbey

During my pursuit of a new church home... I did much praying and much visiting. None of the places I attended felt like 'home'. However, when I visited NTCG College Street, I was made to feel welcomed and part of the fellowship – just like everyone else. I never felt like a visitor. I felt a part of the family and looked forward to returning each week.

The element of College Street I most enjoy is the freedom to worship. There is liberty in being in an atmosphere conducive and encouraging of open worship.

I was brought up in the church and have always been an active and serving member of the church. However, like most young people – my connection to Christ existed through the relationship my parents had with Christ. As I grew up, I began to know and understand Christ for myself, establish my own relationship with Christ; which wasn't reliant on religion, culture or tradition but birthed through true and authentic connection to and with Christ himself.

My Christian journey to date has consisted of me 'clinging on to Christ's hand'. In the moments of turbulence, feeling like all was lost I learnt to cling on to Christ's hand. When I got it wrong and was faced with self-inflicted difficulty I clung on to Christ's hand. Even in the great times of triumph and victory clinging on to Christ's hand has been my motto and course of action. Through it all... Clinging onto Christ's hand.

I embrace and celebrate the spiritual gifts the Lord has given me. Two of the spiritual gifts I've been blessed with are evangelism; the ability to reach people, relate to people, resonate with people and lead them to the Lord. I do this through the music ministry, service and giving. Along with evangelism I have the gift of discernment: the ability to understand, be insightful, aware of and be responsive to the feelings of others.

My aspiration is to continue to do my part in the building of the kingdom. I want to make a consistent contribution to the edification God's people for God's kingdom. I want to live a life that is beyond reproach, a life that is exemplary to young and growing Christians.

I am continually encouraged by Romans 8:28. This scripture is filled with much hope and reassurance. It births an unspeakable measure of peace rooted in the knowledge that in the end everything will be well. I have four points of encouragement for the congregation at College Street:

1. Never let go of Christ's hand – EVER.
2. Believe God, to do the impossible – ALWAYS.
3. Trust God's power and might – AT ALL TIMES.
4. The battle is not yours, put your gloves down and stop fighting – let the master of the ring 'Handle it'!

Thank you all for extending such kindness, love, warmth and welcome towards me – over the last 18 months. I pray that we will continue to be a blessing to each other.
